

THE CONVENTION.

T. W. Spence, of Fond du Lac, Chairman, and Colonel N. Smith, of Janesville, Secretary.

The District Delegates Elected to the Chicago Convention.

Other Interesting Notes From the President's Message.

MADISON, April 30.—The republican state convention which assembled here to-day to elect delegates to the national convention, was one of the largest ever held in the state. The interest is unusually keen, but so far there is no bitterness between the Arthur and the Blaine wings of the party. Each is firm but not wilfully stubborn, and a general desire seems to prevail that the candidate who is the most sure of carrying the country should be nominated. This spirit ruled in the first congressional convention held in the capitol this forenoon. Honors were easy and the convention was harmonious. The Rock county delegation unanimously recommended John W. Sale as a delegate to the republican national convention, and he was elected. H. A. Cooper, district attorney for Racine county, was also elected, which divided the delegates between Arthur and Blaine. Mr. Sale being for the former and Cooper for the latter. W. G. Meadow, of Walworth, was elected an alternate, and on motion of Colonel Burdick, N. Smith was chosen an alternate to the national convention by acclamation.

Colonel J. H. Howe, of Kenosha, an Arthur man, was recommended as a delegate-at-large to the national convention. J. W. Ostrander, of Jefferson, was chosen as one of the presidential electors, for the first district, and J. E. Hog, of Walworth, and Simon Whiteley, of Racine, were placed on the state central committee.

Special to the Gazette.

The republican convention was called to order by Chairman Sanderson. On motion of E. L. Brown, T. W. Spence, of Fond du Lac, was chosen temporary chairman. Mr. Spence, in thanking the convention for the honor conferred, alluded to all of the presidential candidates, whose names were received with vociferous applause, especially at the mention of the name of the man from Maine.

Colonel Nick Smith was chosen temporary secretary and L. A. Langley assistant. Resolutions adopted for appointment of committees on permanent organizations, on credentials and resolutions. The convention took a recess until 2 p. m.

Following are district delegates:
Second district—S. S. Burney, W. T. Ronabush.
Third district—O. Spensley, H. C. Dedge.
Fourth district—Ed. Sanderson, F. C. Winkler.
Fifth district—J. M. Mead, C. E. Eastbrook.
Sixth district—O. B. Clark, Jonathan Bowerman.
Seventh district—C. M. Butt, C. F. Temple.
Eighth district—G. B. Shaw, H. A. Taylor.
Ninth district—Alex. Stewart, O. A. Ellis.

On assembling the temporary officers were made the permanent officers. Convention took a recess for an hour for consultation.

The Sun Does Move.

The Rev. J. Jasper (colored), who insists that "the sun does move," is so popular in Richmond, Va., that when a stranger inquires the way to his church, the answer is to take a car to B. certain corner and then follow the crowd. The evidence of success of modern discoveries being their popularity, "follow the crowd" to your drug store and get a bottle of Biglow's Positive cure, which cures coughs, colds, consumption and all throat and lung diseases speedily, thoroughly and permanently. The Court D'Alene Mines.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 30.—Professor Tiernan, who comes from the vicinity of the Court d'Alene mines, in Montana, says it will be some time before anything definite can be ascertained as to the real value of those mines. He believes that two or three are now paying well. He evidently has little faith in the district as a rich gold-bearing one, and thinks that the history of the Colorado mining districts will probably be repeated there, and that the real wealth will most likely be found in the luster metals.

National Trotting Association.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 30.—At the meeting of the stewards of the National Trotting association, held here, it was decided to offer $10,500 in purses at each meeting of the circuit.

COLORADO MEN MEET.

Assembly of the Negro Inter-State Conference.

The Organization Effected and Business Begun—An Anti-Republican Speech Causes an Uproar—Some Suggestions.

PITTSBURGH, April 30.—The inter-state convention of colored men, to take into consideration the condition of their race and its relation to parties in this country, was called to order in Municipal hall, with delegates from twelve states, mostly northern, to the number of seventy in all. Fred Douglass, Bishop Grosz, of Ohio, and Rev. C. S. Smith, of Illinois, were among the delegates present. Robert Jackson, of Pittsburgh, was elected temporary chairman, and the usual committees appointed and the convention took recess.

The conference reassembled at 1:45 p. m. Rev. C. S. Smith suggested that as the committee on permanent organization was not yet ready to report, the time might be occupied in reading letters of regret from those who had been invited but could not attend. The motion was adopted. The first letter read was from D. A. Stralder, of Columbia, S. C. He thought the conference right and expedient in the face of the great necessity for some concert of action among the colored citizens toward relieving themselves from the manifold oppressions and injustices heaped upon them by a dominant race. He suggested as topics for consideration:

First, in view of the recent decision of the supreme court declaring the civil rights bill unconstitutional, is it not the paramount duty of the Republican party at Chicago to make an unmistakable declaration of its purpose to secure the colored citizen equality with his fellow-citizens the constitutional right to enjoy all privileges, such as is the intent of the civil rights bill, and to be protected in the enjoyment of the same by the power of the constitution, through the federal tribunals of the national government.

Second, the writer urges that the conference should demand of the Republican party at Chicago a pledge for a free ballot and a fair count.

Third, to know whether the Republican party will continue the policy of President Hayes in leaving us at the mercy of our political enemies upon a false theory that the constitution is powerless, public sentiment is against interfering with the states and the significant fact that the cry is "Union! the negro and escape negro rule."

Fourth, the right to a more adequate recognition of our fitness to fill positions of public trust, and can a party which refuses such recognition be called a party of equal rights.

Fifth, the bill recently passed by the senate, which the Republican senate attempted to make a national law, which draws the color line in the schools, should receive the strongest condemnation. When the time comes I shall demand the right to be heard as I shall consider the same right to every other member of the conference.

These remarks were greeted with applause, and Mr. Stewart withdrew his motion. The committee on permanent organization then reported for president J. G. Wheeler, of Illinois, and several vice presidents and secretaries. The proposition to make Mr. Wheeler president occasioned some discussion, one delegate declaring that he was not known and that Fred Douglass should be president. The report of the committee, however, was adopted and the chairman escorted to his seat by Hon. Fred Douglass, Mr. Williams (the kicker), and Mr. Mitchell, of Chicago. He was introduced and delivered a very able address.

The committee on permanent organization also recommended a committee on resolutions and address, to consist of one from each state to be appointed by the chair.

The evening session was opened at 8:30 o'clock. Hon. John P. Brown, of the Ohio legislature, and Mr. George P. Downing, of Illinois, delivered a number of powerful and large addresses were present to hear them. The proceedings of the session were quiet and dignified until nearly the close, when a turbulent and exciting scene was enacted that gave every indication of a very stormy discussion, if not violence and personal encounter, as the windup of the first day. But fortunately the session was declared adjourned in the midst of the confusion, and perhaps serious trouble was averted. The trouble was caused by a remark by Rev. Thompson, of Richmond, Ind., made in an attempt to reply to the address of Mr. Downing, who he considered had reflected too severely upon the Republican party, and had made a strong Democratic speech. After adjournment, however, the subject was not renewed in the crowd, and the members quietly dispersed.

Reception to Henry George.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Henry George, who recently returned to this country after a tour through Great Britain, was tendered a reception at the Cooper institute by the Central Labor union of this city. William McCull presented. On the platform were the following in large letters: "Free Soil," "Free Speech," "Free Press," and "Free Men." After an address by P. J. McGuire, Mr. George was introduced and was greeted with loud applause. He gave an interesting description of his tour through England and Scotland. He said that he believed in the restoration of the land to the people without compensation.

Is This an Effect of the Riot?

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 30.—A petition containing the names of over 5,000 Cincinnati has been presented to Governor Hoadly asking him to commute the sentence of "Reddy" McHugh, the white-messenger, also called upon the governor and made a pitiful appeal for his son. The governor promised to take the papers and give an early decision. It is understood that he will not interfere.

DYNAMITE IN ACTION.

Explosion of a Batch of Cartridges at an Indiana Stone Quarry.

One Person Killed, Four Fatally and Seven Others Seriously Injured—The Ohio Cyclone—Explosion in Havana, Cuba.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 30.—At 5 o'clock a. m., a fire broke out at the house of an employee of the Ellettsville stone works, seven miles east of this place, and a number of the neighbors and employees of the works were promptly on hand to assist in removing the household goods. Near the burning building was a smoke-house, in which hung a large iron pot containing dynamite cartridges used at the stone works. The pulling down of the smoke-house prevented its burning the party allowed the pot to fall, causing an explosion of cartridges, throwing pieces of iron and timber in all directions. Thirteen persons were injured by the explosion, and William Williams, an employee of the stone works, was instantly killed. Peter Mathews, the senior member of the firm, operating the works, was severely injured, and is not expected to recover. Fred Mathews, another member of the firm, was also badly injured. The stone works are owned by four Mathews brothers, and are the oldest and largest works of the kind in the state. They have a large number of employees, nearly all of whom were at the time of the explosion. The explosion occurred in the morning, making the seventh victim of the disaster. The town is in a state of alarm, and many persons fled from their homes, fearing an earthquake. The following is a list of killed and injured: William Williams, killed; Peter Mathews, L. Mathews, Albert Wilson, Ed. Moberly, a boy, thought to be fatally injured; Lawrence Skelly, badly injured about head and arms; William Freeman, head injured; Abe Spinks, Edward Paulmar, Grant Galloway, Fred Mathews, and Mike Wampler, badly injured by flying fragments of iron pot. Others are only slightly injured.

The Janesville, Ohio, Tornado.

Xenia, O., April 30.—The further the Janesville disaster is investigated the more appalling it appears. The corrected estimate of the relief committee shows 110 houses damaged so that they have to be rebuilt from their foundations. The town hall, which had been just completed at a cost of $10,000, was razed to the foundation.

Mrs. William Stewart, a colored woman, who was carried a distance of 300 yards in her cabin and then dashed to the ground, died in the morning, making the seventh victim of the disaster. The funerals of six victims have taken place. There were fully 10,000 people in attendance, who had gone there from surrounding towns to view the ruins. The town is over-run with soldiers.

Gov. Hoadly has been on the ground sending telegrams appealing for relief and directing the handling of the supplies. The state relief committee has sent an additional $500 to the local relief committee and will send more. Large boxes bearing the names of Janesville dealers have been found ten miles from that place. Papers and books of accounts are scattered over the country to many miles.

The work of rebuilding the town can not be proceeded with before assistance is received from outside sources, as the wreck is so complete that the citizens of the ill-fated town have absolutely nothing left. There are no more of the injured who are not expected to survive, and altogether there may be twelve lives sacrificed by the wind. The loss of the Union Agricultural society is placed at $15,000. Their grounds are covered by a twisted mass of trees and timbers. The damage to the Toledo, Cincinnati & St. Louis railroad is caused mostly by cars being thrown from the track and the blocking of the road. The loss of live stock in the track of the storm will be very heavy and it is impossible to estimate the damage to vegetation. Meetings for relief have been held by the Masons and Odd Fellows, and appeals sent out.

Powder Explosion at Havana, Cuba.

HAVANA, Cuba, April 30.—Early Tuesday afternoon the whole city was shaken by two terrible explosions. The streets immediately filled with frightened people, who thought the city had been visited by an earthquake. It soon became known, however, that a powder magazine at San Jose, on the opposite side of the bay, had exploded. Many houses in Havana suffered severely. The first explosion occurred in a magazine at San Jose, adjacent to the arsenal, in which was stored a large number of grenades and shells. The force of the explosion took the direction of the arsenal, and all the residents of the Havana Gas Light company, and all but one of those of the old gas light company were broken.

The second shock, heavier than the first, was caused by the explosion of gas. It is impossible yet to say how many persons are killed or wounded. Several bodies have already been found. It is known there were in the magazine a detachment of twenty soldiers and an artillery officer, who have been occupied several days in removing powder. The military hospital at San Ambrosio, the arsenal, and other buildings in the neighborhood suffered the most damage.

In Havana balconies, windows, and shutters fell to the ground in almost every direction within the custom-house wall. The hospital at San Lazaro suffered severely.

Hydrophobia After Six Years.

CHICAGO, April 30.—Six years ago this city a boy and William O'Day was bitten in the breast by a dog. The wound was not considered a bad one, and beyond a little doctoring nothing was done to guard against hydrophobia. No ill-effects were felt from the wound, which healed without any trouble. Tuesday, however, O'Day, now a lad of 14, had a severe attack of hydrophobia that is attributed to the bite of six years ago. While walking along West Madison street with two of his playmates he began barking like a dog and uttering in a very unaccountable manner. He was at once taken to his home at 1,022 West Jackson street by his playfellows. He has since had a very bad attack of the madness, frothing at the mouth and barking like a dog, and it is doubtful if the boy can recover.

FIRE AWAY THE DRY GOODS.

New York Fire Loss $350,000—A Hard Fight.

NEW YORK, April 30.—A fire, which for several hours caused the greatest excitement in the dry goods district, broke out in the five-story building at 31 and 33 Thomas street, occupied by Van Volkenburg & Leavitt, dry goods commission merchants. The fire department of the entire lower district of the city was called out to battle with the flames, and it was not until after three hours hard work that the fire was got under control. The losses are as far as could be learned, as follows: Van Volkenburg & Leavitt, $350,000; H. B. Smith & Co., 54 Worth street, commission merchants, $50,000; Lewis S. Cox & Co., manufacturers, 17 Thomas street, $20,000. Several other firms who occupied offices in the building lost from $1,000 to $5,000. The building, which is owned by the Manhattan Real Estate company, was damaged $20,000. Nearly all the losses are covered by insurance.

Thomas Donnelly, a reporter on The New York Sun, was knocked down by a fire-ladder and severely injured. He was removed to the hospital, where his injuries were pronounced probably fatal.

THE KNIFE IN COURT.

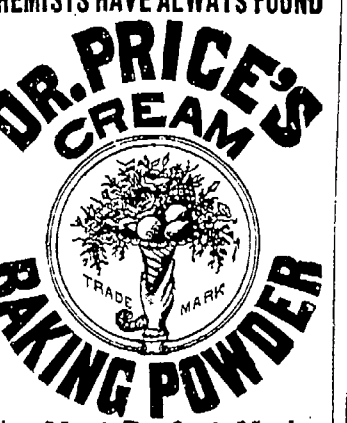

Attempt of a Young Rook to Murder His Brother.

BALTIMORE, April 30.—Quite an exciting scene occurred in the eastern police station. While a peace case was being heard by the justice, William Benton was brought in, having been arrested at the instance of his mother and brother James for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. While awaiting his turn for a hearing, he suddenly drew a knife and shouting to his brother James, "I'll kill you and I will," plunged it into his brother's breast, the wounded man falling to the floor. The wound, though serious, is not necessarily fatal. Instantly all was confusion; the women present screamed, and the men rushed for the door. The judge hurriedly dismissed the case on habeas corpus and ordered Benton brought before him. After denouncing Benton's cowardly act, the judge committed the culprit to jail without bail for attempt to murder. In his cell the prisoner informed the officer that there was another man he would kill as soon as he got a chance.

Two Shots and One Death.

CINCINNATI, April 30.—Ed. Eckert, a tailor, living at 38 Jackson street, has not lived happily with his wife for some time, and a year ago they agreed to separate. Tuesday morning he went to her room with the intention, as is supposed, of renewing the quarrel. A very hot verbal passage between them, when he drew a pistol from his pocket and fired directly in her face. Thereupon he hastily left the house. The woman was only slightly hurt, the shot, however, being deeper than the powder burning her face. As soon as she was assured that her husband and swore out a warrant for his arrest. Meanwhile Eckert went to the house of a friend and attempted to go very far. He remained an hour or two in the house and then without a word of warning drew the same pistol from his pocket and shot himself through the head. There is but a slight chance for his recovery.

CARPET TRADE.

In carpets, we know competition in this city. We have received, in the past week, an elegant line of patterns of Lowall extra super carpet; an excellent assortment of these goods was ever shown in Jameville; also, a full line of Tapestry Brussels, Body Brussels; also, a splendid assortment Moque's, no such line to be seen in Jameville at any other house. We made the carpet trade pretty warm last spring, this spring we propose to make it red hot.
